CHANGE THE WAY YOUR TEAM WORKS WITH MODSPACE

ModSpace is the perfect collaboration tool for analytic teams, here's why:

- Standardised folder structures for projects to ensure everyone is working consistently
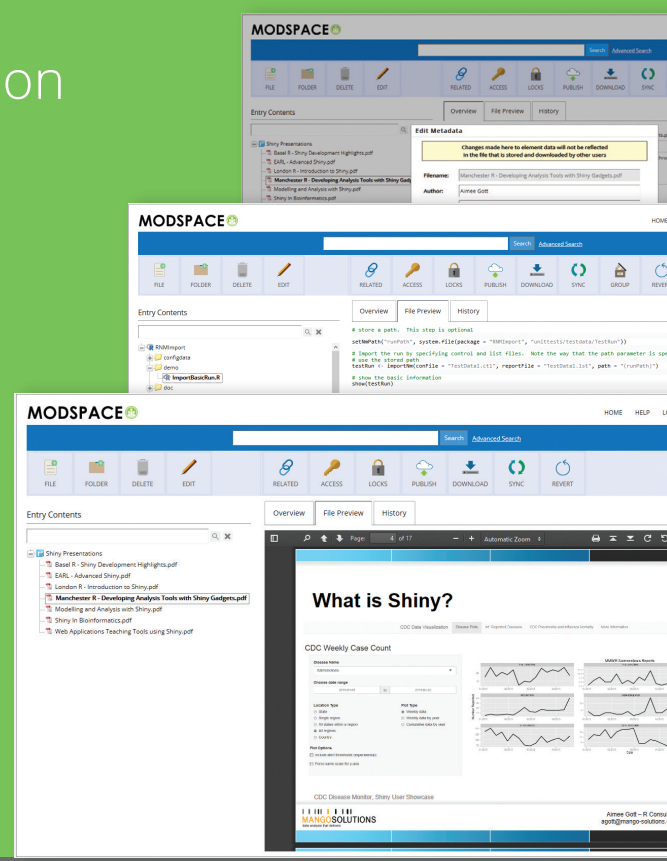

- Transparent and automated version control

- Store and reuse all file types, including scripts, input data and MS Office documents

- Never start scripts or documents from scratch again

- ModSpace automatically identifies and populates metadata from any file

ModSpace helps you streamline analytic research and development, promote collaboration, and achieve regulatory compliance.

Developed with the needs of cross functional teams of data scientists, modellers, statisticians, programmers and analysts in mind, ModSpace is a repository that is perfect for teams - whether you're working across different departments, offices or countries.

ModSpace is already being used by major pharmaceutical companies, energy companies, the transport sector, financial institutions and media companies globally.

Talk to us to find out how ModSpace could help you work more effectively and support your regulatory compliance or to organise a demonstration with a member of the Mango team.
